

Representative Paul Zeltwanger

54th House District

Representative Paul Zeltwanger is currently serving his first term as State Representative. He represents the 54th Ohio House District, which encompasses portions of Warren County including Deerfield Township, Lebanon and Mason, as well as part of Butler County.

Rep. Zeltwanger received his B.S. in Business Administration and Accounting from Grace College and earned his MBA in Finance from Indiana University. He has 25 years of experience in the private sector, including 15 years with Ernst & Young and PriceWaterhouseCoopers. For the last 10 years, Zeltwanger has owned his own real estate development company, Joshua One. They specialize in creating livable communities within the urban core. His past experience in the private sector has given him significant experience in economic development and job creation.

The Representative and his wife, Teresa, have been married 26 years and have four children; two sons and two daughters. The family lives in Mason where Paul has served on the board of their church, Grace Chapel.

