1. Start with a virtual visit or call your primary care physician. You will be advised what to do next.
2. Call ahead before going in person to any hospital location.
3. Don't go to your local emergency department for COVID-19 testing. The emergency department is only for those who need the most critical care. **

 If you have chest pain, shortness of breath, dizziness, a severe headache or other potentially life-threatening problems, go to the nearest emergency department or call 911.
